

The Road Less Traveled

Saturday, June 5th

Don't miss this unique opportunity. We strive to host events which are just a bit out of the norm so this may be a one timer. The race begins in Whitney Woods and follows the historic carriage paths through woodlands and over Brass Kettle Brook on its way up to Turkey Hill (the highest point in Cohasset at 187 feet) with views of Boston and the Atlantic Ocean. After gently making its way down the other side it continues onto the new rail trail and finishes across from Old Colony Square and the Cohasset train station. This is not a trail race nor is it a road race. We consider it a hybrid somewhere between the two. That's what makes it special. Just think! no traffic, noise or pollution. It almost sounds like fun. What a concept!

- There is no parking available at Whitney Woods. Runners must park & check in at Old Colony Square before being bused to the start. We will not provide transportation back to the start after the race so please follow our instructions.
- All entrants will receive a limited edition T-shirt and free admission to the South Shore Endurance Sport Expo being held at Old Colony Square immediately following the 9:00am race. It will feature live music, food, raffle prizes.
- The Expo will include representatives from other races, retailers, manufacturers, sports medicine, nutrition, service providers, etc...
